

Daily Dragon

Issue 6

Thursday 31st July 2008

Daily Reminder!!

Have you played in the dragon games yet? There is a lot to do.

Please remember to put your rubbish in the yellow skip and to use the recycling bins.

Our compost bin is now up and running!!! No cooked food, only uncooked veggie peel, fruit, eggshells, and cardboard egg boxes

Remember that a difficulty is no longer a difficulty when you can laugh at it and tackle it.

Tomorrows Activities

Tomorrow morning and afternoon the Archery lessons will continue to run behind the marquee. Also in the morning In4Mers will be running at the marquee.

In the evening the closing ceremony will begin 7.30pm in the white marquee.

Well done to the Oceans Sub Camp for being the first to get their Skylon up.

A BIG thank you to Rhyl Guides for my jar of Marmite yesterday. Everytime I tuck into it I shall think of you and your gazebo!

Can Chirk claim the prize for "Oldest Visitor"? Wednesday was the day Chirk's special visitor came. A lovely 95-year-old who isn't quite a Dame!! It was Mrs Morris's Mum who came down with her brother. They all watched the girls come down the hill covered in mud. The adventure zone was a great success even though the girls looked such a mess!!

Tooth Fairy

Frances was a young guide, who lost her tooth and cried, she hoped the fairy wont lose her way, and deliver a shiny coin to her today

Weather Today

Heavy Showers
Approx 19°C

Green Fact!!

Plastic bags can take up to 500 years to decompose – try to use canvas, string or jute.

Toasters use a lot less energy than the grill, saves money as well.

The Campfire

Campfire entertainment was a massive success and greatly enjoyed by the guides. 2nd Broughton guides enjoyed the 'boy and a girl in a little canoe' song while Pen y Ffordd guides enjoyed the street dancing. 5th Rhyl guides enjoyed Ilanasa's entertainment and overall the girls thoroughly enjoyed the entertainment evening. Pen Y Ffordd guides have been entertaining themselves with circus tricks and 'guides got talent'. They have definitely been brushing up on their plate spinning tricks.

Somewhere Over The Rainbow

Following the groggy weather that camp has suffered, many beautiful rainbows have illuminated the skies of Ty Clwyd. Carys Allen from 5th Rhyl guides spotted two magnificent rainbows at the same time – this is a sure sign as Carys has just joined guides after leaving Rainbows.

7th Wrexham wedding

Chloe Huxley (Bride) and Hannah Burrows (Groom) got married yesterday due to madness, insanity and water on the brain. This took place in the 7th Wrexham Marquee at 11.30am. Chloe claimed it was love at first site (just after 3 days of their meeting) and so decided on a comical wedding with characters from bridesmaids to vicars and a best man played by Emma Unwin. Burrows had last minute fears when she thought she was going to die from touching a fox glove (she intentionally went out to pick flowers for her bride). Best wishes are given to these newly weds!!!!!!

The Shout Box

Marford Guides have a tip for you all. Don't walk through the long grass in crocs because your shoes will get full of caterpillars!! Also they'd like to thank their guiders for being good cooks and letting us sit in their tent when the thunderstorm was overhead.

A big shout out to the entire young guy guides at Clwyd this year: Oliver from Clwyd Vale, Ben Hatton from 7th Wrexham, Dylan Jones from 5th Rhyl and Callum Craine from Penyffordd.

Llanasa guides have requested that a big thanks goes to Elen Price who as a first time camper has landed with the job as patrol leader and has worked extremely hard and is doing a great job! WELL DONE ELEN!!!

Kim from Clwyd vale went to a job interview in London today wearing a smart black suit complete with wellington boots.

The 2nd Chirk rangers have been quite the party animals and have been partying – all 11 of them – in a five-man tent!!!

RIP
Mr gazebo.

Rust In Pieces
Indeed.

Hope guides are struggling to cope with their losses as they have been forced to say goodbye to a much needed and beloved ...gazebo. Their gazebo did a backward summersault and broke its neck. It has now been put to rest behind the barn.

Katie Kreczman also from 7th Wrexham strolled out of her tent yesterday wearing a red raincoat, blue bottoms and yellow necker, so camp hany man created a blue noddy hat complete with yellow bell.

The flowery birds from Clwyd vale guides went extreme tent flying yesterday as two of their patrol members went flying over the guy ropes in the high winds.

Naomi Baileys from 7th Werxham has been particularly accident-prone this camp from sailing disasters to cuts and bruises, however we are now happy to report that her thumb is getting better.
