

Daily Dragon

Issue 5

Wednesday 30th July 2008

Daily Reminder!!

Thursday evening the camp shop will be open to all guiders only.

The Ranger who was after some flip-flops, there are a pair at the house for £1.50 for you.

If you haven't written a good wish dragon scale yet, don't miss your chance to, and stick it up in the marquee

Guides can use a reef knot to remind them about doing a good turn each day.

Weather Today
Sunny Intervals
Approx 21°C

Green Fact!!

Riding 4 miles on a bike instead of a car saves 7kg of air pollution.

Recycle all glass if possible, one bottle/jar saves enough energy to power a television for 90 minutes.

Tomorrows Activities

Tomorrow morning and afternoon there will be an Army assault course set up near the campfire, and Archery lessons available behind the white marquee.

In the evening there is an Archery show beginning at 7.30pm at the marquee

"A Guide is honest, reliable & can be trusted"

We are very lucky to have the camp shower block facilities. Please be sure you treat them with respect like you would at home.

Please encourage the girls to think about the amount of toilet paper they use each day. It takes one tree to make a 1 metre high pile of paper.

We have a new family of bumblebees on site. Please let them go about their job in looking after the flowers.

There is now a post box at the house for people wanting to send mail home.

Other nights Storm

Llanasa and Gwernaffield guides singing for 1½ hour's at the top of their voices non-stop through the thunder and lightening.

Congratulations to Joe from 2nd Broughton guides on over coming her fear of thunder and well done from the guiders to all the guides for supporting her.

5th Rhyl guides would like to thank Broughton for the much needed cups of tea at 6.15am. Also big thanks to Jane Barham and Jane Bevan who rescued the tent and saved the day with spare poles. Thank you all!

After Jane and Jane's efforts 5th Rhyl still spent the morning fixing their food tent.

Everyone seemed to have lots of fun at last nights gathering

First Shoe!!

The first shoe not from this camp has been pulled out of adventure zone

Tear this piece off and send in your messages or stories. Post it at the red post box inside the house

Kitchen Mishaps

After a third mishap at Buckley Rangers camp they have been labelled a hazard while cooking.

The fever seems to be catching as the middle tent patrol had their own kitchen mishap when they accidentally spilt cooking fluid on their stainless steel tray and set it alight whilst cooking on a Trangia. Luckily no one got hurt and they managed to put out the tray safely although they won't be able to use it again.

Postman

Onlookers watched as the postman struggled into Llanasa Guide camp with an exceptionally heavy bag. All was explained when he produced a 14-page love letter from Georgia Morris lovesick boyfriend.

The Shout Box

Sunday night Clwyd Vale District slept under the stars – they saw some shooting stars too.

1st Penyffordd Guides Jade Walsh tried to do a challenge of swinging a bucket of water over her head without it spilling. She succeeded however in smashing the bucket into tiny pieces with the handle still in her hands!!

Ann Ashworth would like to thank the 2 senior sections that helped clear up and prepare activities for the guides. Also thank you to Pauline Gower who stayed and made rockets.

Ellen Hughes from Senior Section ate her fortune in her fortune cookie! Luckily she did not swallow it! 😊

Clwyd Vale Rangers would like to say a BIG thank you to Clwyd Vale Guiders for supplying them with hot chocolate every night. It is lovely.

Rhian Hughes from 1st Llanasa Guides really enjoyed the muddy trail and left mud angels in the bog there.

Lizzie from 7th Wrexham Guides really enjoyed the water activities yesterday, but now has tanned spots on her feet from her Crocs and a brand new friend called fish who swam right through her shoes.

Despite capsizing, in some cases twice!! And falling off the rafts, the Bala experience is fantab dozy brilliant and the girls would love to go again!! But... drink lots of water – but not the lake.

